SUPER SPECIALITY INSTITUTE & RESEARCH CENTRE
Redefining ENT Care

Mesiarc brings you
a unique live
surgical workshop
a demonstration of both endoscopic and
microscopic
otologic skills

Otologic surgery is special for its intricate anatomy, extreme precision and attention to detail. Traditionally done with the operating microscope, and now in some centers across the world with the endoscope, the repertoire of the art is widening.

Confusion persists. Advocated of endoscopic work claim that the microscope is passe, and traditional surgeons laugh off the ability of the one handed technique.

The truth lies somewhere in between- there are specific conditions that require either of both of the techniques. Dogmatism, they say, is the end of science.

MESIARC has always stood for dissipation of knowledge and the live surgical workshops are not publicity events, nor are they grandiose. We have just one agenda to educate

This workshop with a difference aims to demonstrate both endoscopic and microscopic skills in otologic surgery, while attempting to define which is more suitable for what. Do come and enjoy!
